Racial Abilities

Axe bonus - +1 to attack rolls with hand or battle axe.

Close to the earth - Dwarves with this ability heal faster in subterranean settings. When this character is underground, he heals 2 points of damage overnight rather than the 1 point normally healed by other races. This bonus does not apply if the character is above ground.

Crossbow bonus - +1 bonus to attack rolls with crossbows.

Hit point bonus - +1 hit point bonus on all hit point rolls for a new level.

Infravision - Dwarves have infravision to 60 feet - the ability to see heat patterns given off by living warm-blooded creatures in the dark.

Melee combat - Dwarves have a +1 bonus to their attack rolls vs. orcs, half-orcs, goblins, and hobgoblins. Further, when ogres, half-ogres, ogre magi, trolls, giants, or titans fight dwarves, these aggressors suffer a -4 penalty on all attack rolls. Dwarves are small and have defensive tactics against these large foes.

Racial Abilities

Class Abilities

Fighter

Defense bonus - +2 AC bonus if unarmored and unencumbered.

Magic resistance - 2% magic resistance per level.

Weapon specialization - Allows specialization in one weapon.

Limited armor - May not wear armor.

Traits

Keen Eyesight - +1 bonus on to hit rolls for missile weapons when attacking at long range. The character acts as if they were one sight category closer with respect to information gained.

Disadvantages

Phobia: Enclosed spaces, severe - Each time the character is presented with their phobia, they must make a Wisdom/Willpower check every 2d6 rounds they are exposed to it. If failed, the character must flee the source of the phobia for 1d6 rounds, and must make another check. All checks are made at half ability score if the phobia is severe.
